Museum Aides Honored

As a result of gifts from anonymous donors, the Mattapoisett Historical Society is once again able to award its regular Junior Aides a special "Recognition Day", according to an announcement by Mrs. Harry Locke, Society president.

The Museum's unique Summer Volunteer Junior Aide Program for area teens was innovated last year by Historical Society Curator Charles Mendell, with the assistance of Mrs. Charles B. Dunn. The energetic young teens contribute their cheerful services at the Church Street Museum at least one morning a week, with some especially devoted aides serving much more often, throughout the summer season. They staff the desk, guide visitors, keep showcases and counters clean, make signs, and work diligently to prepare and maintain equipment and articles for display.

Coordinator of the Museum Summer Aide Program, Mrs. Charles B. Dunn, who arranged last year's highly successful Aides Award Trip to Old Sturbridge Village, announces that "Recognition Day" this year will feature a trip to Old Mystic Seaport, Mystic Seaport, recreated by the Marine Historical Association, is a typical New England coastal village of the mid-nineteenth century. This maritime community situated on 37 acres bordering the Mystic River is not a museum in the usual sense, but an activated waterfront area of cobblestoned streets, lined with authentic and original structures, supplemented by formal museum buildings, housing collections of ship models, paintings, prints, figureheads, and relics of the sea. Indeed, Mystic Seaport has been dubbed "The Living Museum of the Sea". Each of the ships berthed at Mystic Seaport's wharves and piers has had an extraordinary and dramatic past. Star of this unusual and excellent collection is of course the Charles W. Morgan, last survivor among the great whaling ships out of New Bedford, and newly restored.

ANTIQUE STUDY GROUP MEETING

Eighteen people attended the first meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club Antique Study Group. The hostess, Mrs. William N. Dexter, gave a tour and talk on the history of the 1812 House, an authentic Cape Cod house built by Thomas Dexter. Afterwards a business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Dunn.

The next meeting will be held November 2nd at the home of Mrs. George King, Pearl Street. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Manuel F. Roza and Mrs. Charles W. Smith. Mr. King will give an illustrated talk on transportation in Mattapoisett from 1857 to 1970.

This year the group has chosen to study "Historic Mattapoisett". They are doing research on community places, business places, clubs, organizations, notables and town characters. Members will report to the group and it will be recorded so the past will not be forgotten.

Any information or loaned pictures of any of the following places would certainly be appreciated by the ladies: Purrington Library, Mrs. Charles W. Smith; schools, Mrs. Kenneth Wood and Mrs. John R. Moynihan; churches, Miss Jessie Peacock; telephone offices, Mrs. Ralph Dunn and Mrs. James Harris; theater and playhouse, Mrs.

Distaff Trumpeter

A DOLLAR DOWN - DOLLAR A WEEK!

This is how you bought a trumpet - or a fiddle or a clarinet - during the Depression Years. When men were selling pencils and apples on the street corners of New Bedford, Edith Pliskin, lady trumpeter with the Regional Symphonic Band, was tenaciously practicing her new shiny horn - owned solely by her after 34 payments. Because a piano was financially out of the question during the early thirties, the Regional Symphonic Band now boasts one of the finest lady trumpeters on the East Coast - a charming fourth grade teacher at the Condon School in New Bedford who now resides in Dartmouth.

Edith Pliskin has held her own in many a male trumpet section when in high school or with the New Bedford Symphony. Although no real advocate of the Women's Lib Movement, being the devoted wife of Benjamin P. and the mother of 2 prominent sons, Edith was the first woman to play with the Massachusetts State College (University of Massachusetts) Band at a time when men only were allowed to march with the band. No resentments came to the surface from the male phalanx - but only professional admiration for a fine trumpeter.

Aside from her many roles as wife, mother, teacher and musician, Edith can cook up an elegant squash or potato Kugel for her family. On her nights off from band rehearsal or correcting papers, Edith bowls or plays a winging game of ping pong.

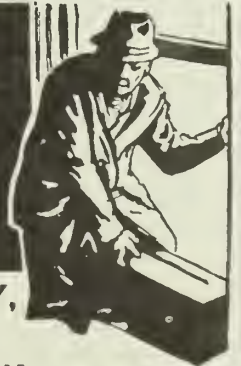

In the background there is the stolid devotion of Edith's 83 year old father, born in Austria, who has never missed one of her concerts. To have such a daughter!!

It is not a well-known fact around town, but Edith was asked at one time to play with Phil Spitalny's All-Girl Orchestra. She turned it down, but since John Pandolfi and his group are well on their way to similar fame, it was a wise decision, Edith.

shorescapes and portraits are shown. Paintings include familiar and interesting scenes in local environment in the yard and nearby towns.

Mrs. Klatt, a graduate of Rhode Island School of Design, has within the last five years returned to her profession after busy years mothering six children, three of whom are now married with children of their own. She has recently studied with John F. Coldwell of Fall River and with Edward Doyle of Swansea, specializing in drawing, sketching and portraits.

Mrs. Klatt has exhibited at Fall River Art Association, Fall River Kennedy Park Exhibit, and Bristol Island Art Museum where her painting "Americana Rear" won honorable mention in 1968. Other exhibits were held at Health Haven's Rest Home in East Providence, Providence Art Club and North Dighton Unitarian Church.

A member of the Fall River Art Association, the Bristol Art Museum, Attleboro Art Museum and Warren Art Festival, Warren, Rhode Island, Mrs. Klatt states that applying one's self to art takes energy, but gives relief from daily routines. "My paintings all have a message and a meaning to me, besides what is seen by the viewer," she stated.

Accompanying each painting on exhibit Mrs. Klatt has a brief account of why she chose the subject and its special significance to her.

28-0 Bulldog Victory

The score is familiar. Last year it was the same. Saturday, the Bulldogs reversed the score from last year and decisively changed into the role of victors. In a complete reversal of form over last week, the Old Rochester team ran well, passed well and hit hard on the defense to roll up a 4 touchdown shut-out.

In the first half, Bill Knapton accounted for two touchdowns as he scored on a 3-yard plunger after a 67-yard drive from the opening kick-off. The Bulldogs controlled the ball in 13 plays as Knapton carried for half the total. After he scored, Tim Reilly ran for 2 points to make it 8-0.

Case received and was stalled on its own 40. They punted to O.R. The Bulldogs could not move and were forced into a punting situation on their own 30. A snap soared over the head of punter Knapton who chased it back to the one and downed

The Bulldogs drove to the OR 44 where a series of incomplete passes forced the punt. Case received on the Case 23 and was forced to punt from the 29. The punt went out of bounds on the OR 45.

OR then moved on runs by Reilly, Mott and Knapton. Knapton carried for the last 8 to score with the half running out. The conversion failed and the score at halftime was 14 to 0.
